BIOGRAPHY

Victoria is a fun-loving female in her 20s looking for fun places to travel with her friends. She enjoys a variety of different activities, such as hiking and traveling. She wants to be able to experience more and travel the world with her friends as a younger adult before settling down and starting a family.

As a finance consultant, she makes enough money to travel regularly but is still busy in career. She wants to make the most out of every opportunity to go somewhere new.

PERSONALITY

GOALS

- Being able to travel and accommodate the interests of self and friends
- Being able to discover new places to travel customized to places that she loved before
- Being able to observe itineraries of friends who were able to travel to places that interests her

FRUSTRATIONS

- Having to waste time on transportation when traveling places with poorly planned itineraries
- Going to popular tourist traps that she later discovers isn't in line with her interests
